Rushmoor has lower percentages of households that own their own house and a higher percentage that rent from social landlords, than the surrounding areas. However, tenure in Rushmoor is similar to England.

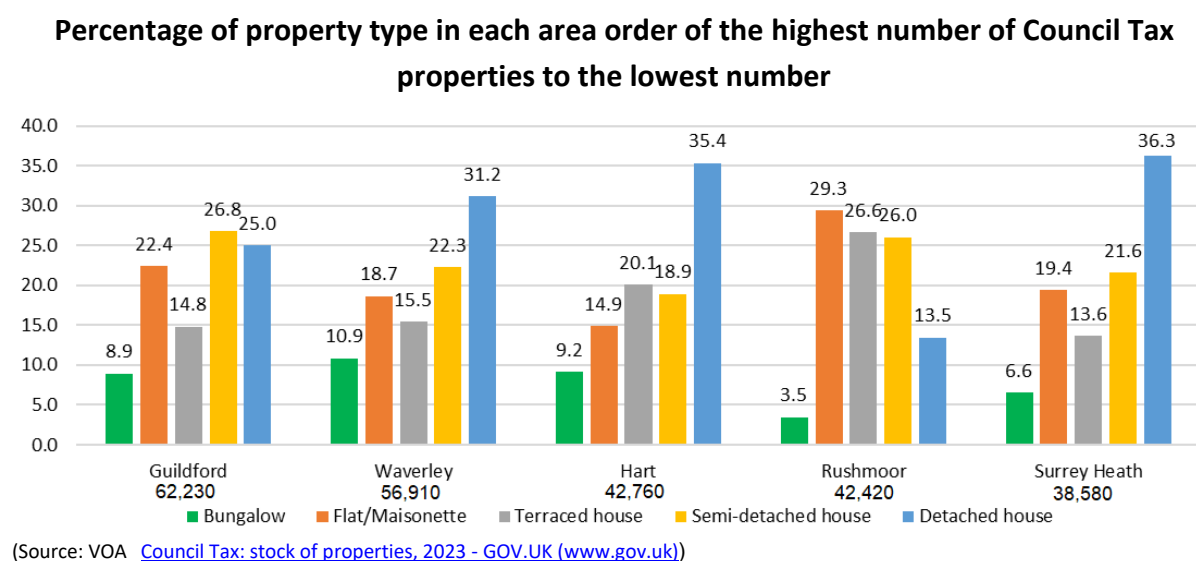

Types of housing in Rushmoor

As of the 31 of March 2024 there were 42,420 Council Tax properties in Rushmoor. The following chart shows the percentage of dwellings in each Council Tax band for Rushmoor and Rushmoor's surrounding local authority areas, in order of the highest percent of band A to D properties. Band D is the base at which Council Tax in an area is set, the amount reduces towards band A and increased towards band H.

In 2024, 86.2% of Rushmoor properties were in band A to D. This is a higher percentage than the South East (which is 71.4% band A to D), and a higher percentage than England as a whole (which is 80.9% band A to D).

In 2024, the most common type of property in Rushmoor was flats / maisonettes (29.3%). In the surrounding areas the most common property type was detached houses in Waverley (31.2%), Hart (35.4%) and Surrey Heath (36.3%). In Guildford the most common property type was semi-detached houses (26.8%). In the South East the most common property was a terraced house (23.6%) and in England the most common property was also a terraced house (25.8%).

The charts above clearly shows that Rushmoor has a higher percentage of lower band dwellings (band A to D) and a higher percentage of flats and maisonettes than the surrounding local authorities.

House prices

The following table shows the average house prices for Rushmoor and the surrounding areas. The data is the price paid data from the Land Registry for 2024 (as of May 2025), it shows that the average house price in Rushmoor is £358,659.

Note: it can take a few months for property sales to be registered with the Land Registry so the standard report data for 2024 was not fully complete by May 2025. The following house price and sales data will be updated when the complete 2024 data is published.

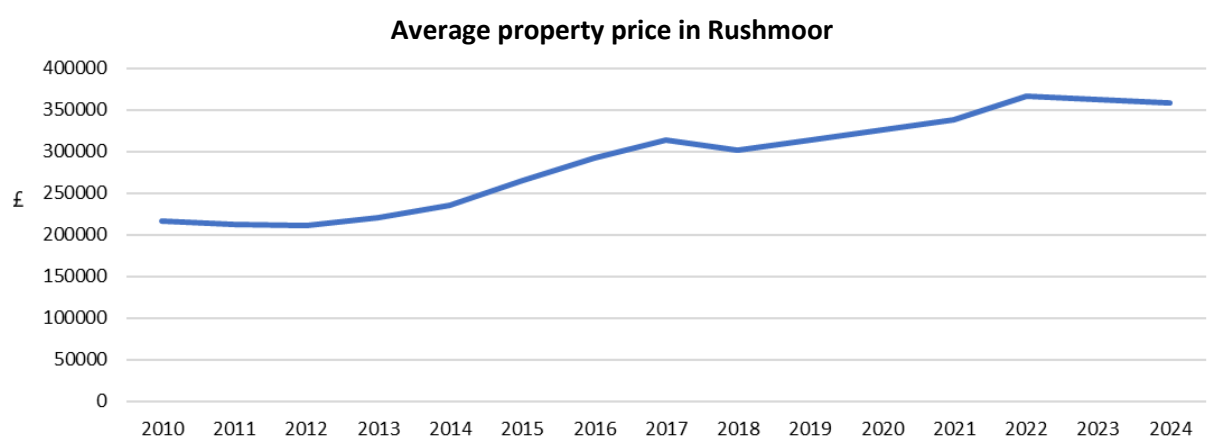

January to December 2024	Average price
Rushmoor	£358,659
Surrey Heath	£527,840
Hart	£503,314
